

Valley Happenings

Education of Young Children

The Mat-Su Association for the Education of Young Children is looking for any organization, business or volunteer services, serving young children and/or parents, to attend a Resource Night, to be held at Wasilla Jr. High School on Monday, Jan. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Groups will be able to set up an information booth for parents to attain information regarding the services provided. The association is looking for as many services as possible to be represented, so parents will know what is available for their children and themselves, in the Valley.

If you are interested in having your service represented, call Sally DuBois at 376-3410.

school. Many items have been donated by local people and businesses.

Fiber Artists

Paula Dickey, fiber artist from Eagle River whose transparent technique weavings entitled "Kuultokudos," are currently on display in the college atrium, will be presenting an explanation of the transparent weaving technique at the monthly meeting of the Valley Fiber Artists Guild on Wednesday, Oct. 28, 7 p.m. in room 122 at Mat-Su College. Dickey will be speaking at 8 p.m. after the guild's general business meeting and the public is invited to attend. For further information call Frances Vadla at 892-6722.

Fiber art show at college

Paula Dickey, a fiber artist from nearby Eagle River, is currently exhibiting her latest transparent weavings, entitled "Kuultokudos," in the atrium area at Matanuska-Susitna College. The linen weavings will be on display until the end of October.

Also on display, at the Cottonwood Creek Mall in Wasilla, is an exhibit displaying projects made by various Valley Fiber Arts Guild members.

The mall is allowing the use of storefronts to provide community groups and organizations a vehicle to display just what they do, thus enabling the general public to become informed on various areas of interest pursued by Valley residents.

The exhibit now on display from the Fiber Arts guild highlights the Valley Fiber Fest planned by the guild in November. The sale, show and demonstrations by local fiber artists will feature fiber spinning and weaving as well as other technique used by the artists.

The Valley Fiber Fest will be held at the Cottonwood Creek Mall on Saturday, Nov. 14, from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., and Sunday, Nov. 15, from 12 - 6 p.m. Come shop for something Valley-made for Christmas.